LAVATER, the celebrated Physiognomist, continues very ill in consequence of a wound which he received at the time of the attack upon Zurich. He is, however, so laudably eager to perform Religious Duties, that on the 28th ult. he caused himself to be carried to Church, and preached a very affecting Sermon to a numerous congregation.

I.

TO Thee, our Heav'nly Father, Guide and King,
Thy children their accustomed tribute bring!
Form'd by thy pow'r, protected by thy care,
All that we have, we offer—Praise and Pray'r.

II.

O Righteous Saviour, who didst not disdain
To bless, and to embrace an infant-train,
Let us, O let us share paternal love!
Bless us—embrace us—in the world above!

III.

Spirit of Grace descend! O Pow'r benign,
Make heart, and mind, and soul, and body, thine!
Free us from sin, from fatal error free;
'Till we are "Living Temples"—worthy Thee!

IV.

From vice and folly sav'd—from want and woe—
What thanks—what love—what gratitude—we owe!
To ev'ry friend on earth, due praise be giv'n;
And laud and glory to our Friend in heav'n!

V.

Eternal Trinity! thy amplest show'r
Of blessings on our bounteous Patrons pour!
Give them with joy to hear that kind decree—
"Who gave to these—my Children—gave to Me!"

HALLELUJAH.

☞ Morning and Evening Service to be opened with the following HYMN.

Lift up your heads, ye lofty gates,
Unfold each spacious door;

For here the King of Glory waits,
With blessings for the poor.
